A double blind study was conducted in a sample of 26 chronic hemodialysis patients to determine the effect of vitamin B6 supplementation at a high dose on metabolic control and blood acid-base status in chronic hemodialysis patients. Twenty-eight diets (14 controls and 14 supplemented with vitamin B6) were planned during the 21-day study. Eleven of the 14 supplemented patients completed all phases of the study. Vitamins B6 was administered as vitamin B6-histidine monodialtate (10 mg, 4 times a day). Patients were followed for 8 to 10 weeks. The results showed an improvement in the metabolic control of patients on vitamin B6 supplementation, the rise in serum bilirubin being statistically significant. When all phases were considered the difference was significant. These results reinforce the critical role played by vitamin B6 in maintaining adequate metabolic control in dialysis patients.Music, Art & Ice Creations Tag: white and blue The weather has been warming up, little by little, and it's too good not to share with you! Well, this weekend I wore my Trust For Bees shirt and shorts which got a lot of compliments, but today I add the perfect white and blue combo to the outfit. The water from Spain is getting warmer by the second, since the sea is over 32°C. Today I want to share with you a hotel called Villa Mirador de l'Escorxa which is located on the mouth of the River Guadalquivir where there's a big promenade, right in the middle of the city. You can find it on the map below (scroll down). When you arrive at the hotel,
